Phuture Trax Releases Debut Single With Funk Legend George Clinton
Screamin' Rachael Teams With "God Father" of Funk For Phuture Trax Debut Single

Chicago, Illinois, January 5, 2007: Rachael Cain, legendary "Queen of House Music" as recognized by Billboard Magazine, and numerous publications, and founder of the original Chicago-based Trax Record label and legendary funk artist George Clinton unveil the debut single for Phuture Trax Records today titled "Our House Is Funkdified". This collaborative project between Cain and Clinton ushers in a new era of global house music and the launch of Phuture Trax Records..

"Our House is Funkdified" has an "old school" house heart, and delivers a nostalgic funky rhythm from the early days of house music in Chicago, while adding the new twist of funk. The project was a collaborative creation blending the talent of Clinton and Screamin' Rachael together in an explosive exposition of energy and unique talent.

"With the debut of Phuture Trax Records it was time to put funk in the house so I went straight to the Godfather, The Wizard of Funk himself, Mr. George Clinton. We created several new singles including "Our House Is Funkdified", and Shut Up And Dance. The music speaks for itself!", said Screamin' Rachael, president of Phuture Trax Records. Everyone knows the genius of George Clinton and we now have production mixes by the best in the business", continued Screamin' Rachael.

Screamin' Rachael and George Clinton also produced a video with the release of "Our House Is Funkdified" which will debut at Midem in Cannes France.
